MAN IS SLAIN IN RIVER QUARREL

J. B. WHITE

Observance of a special day for mothers is traced to various sources. Nationally, the credit goes to Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia. In 1914 the occasion had become widely enough recognized for Congress to fix the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day.

As so often happens in connection with special days, the observance of Mother's Day fell into the hands of men and women who felt the need of appropriate illustrations to accompany whatever they had to say in print. They seemed to agree on Whistler's painting of his mother. Though it had been used thousands of times, it represents a type of motherhood that seems suitable for present day observance—a mother whose life of usefulness is nearly done and who sits by the fire to dream of other days.

Some mothers of today may have snowy hair and their ages may be measured by the scriptural span, yet the tributes to them are based as much on their alertness, vigor, courage and intelligence as on sentiment. If civilization has done nothing else it has enabled mothers to enter more fully into the lives of their children. Ancient barriers have disappeared and the mother has become a companion of her sons and daughters.

Sleeping on the ground is recommended by Tom Mix, that hardy protagonist of the open spaces, as a means of acquiring a healthy appetite for breakfast. We have found that sleeping on the ground also is an aid in acquiring chilblains, an old-fashioned Charley horse, ants, stone bruises and grateful appreciation of a soft mattress when opportunity to use one next presents itself.

Crying down the old-time virtues and scorning the privations of the pioneers is not among our habits. Mix's prescription strikes us as admirably applicable to the petulant younger miss, who snoots with finicky delicacy the morning aroma of frying eggs and bacon.

But for us the times and price of comestibles being what they are, a healthy western appetite for breakfast might be earned more easily, not to say appropriately, by doing without dinner.

Not many people make life interesting by philosophy now. It is considered easier to buy your fun. So people pay theatres, dance halls, the sporting clubs, etc., to provide diversions for them.

In simpler times, people used to find enjoyments without paying for them, which can be called living by philosophy. They sat on the porches on summer evenings instead of burning up the roads, and they found pleasure in observing the ways of nature and her creatures. Or they hid themselves to the corner grocery where they exchanged nuggets of wisdom with their neighbors. They lived a contemplative life, conversing, reading, and observing. They were just as happy as we are.

Modern life will not revert to that idea, but it should not wholly forget how to live by philosophy. It helps out when the pay envelope fails short.

The old time joke had it that the graduate of a school or college would put his diploma in his pocket, and proudly show it to a prospective employer, to prove he was worthy to sell dry goods or keep the books. Anyway, he hung his diploma on the walls, where no visitor could possibly miss seeing it.

The modern college graduate goes home when his final examination is passed, without waiting to rig up his black gown and receive personally the coveted piece of sheepskin. But somehow people always find out that he has that diploma tucked away in some desk drawer.

The diploma of a good school proves that when the holder starts to saw up a woodpile, he keeps on to the last stick. That means something, in a world of quitters.

BAND SWEETHEART CONTEST

VOTING BEGINS AS POPULARITY TEST
GRIPS CAMERON

Interest in the campaign to name a Sweetheart for the Cameron band Wednesday had reached the stage of brisk competition with ballots falling into the boxes and funds accumulating for a much needed stimulus to a depleted treasury.

Back of the contest are plans vital to the Band and to the community, for in addition to electing a sweetheart, it has become vitally necessary that funds be raised for equipment which must be purchased if the band continues to advance. The future of the Band which has attracted state wide attention is at the cross roads. Its progress now rests with the people.

Although the Sweetheart contest on the face of it may not hold out great possibilities for raising needed funds, yet in the aggregate, if all the parents and citizens generally, will cast a ballot the contest will not only result in achieving a marked advance in personnel but will be a financial success.

Band Parents Association is urging all parents and all citizens to participate as voters in this contest. Each vote is paid for at the rate of five cents each and there is no limit to the number that may be cast for any candidate. Names of the contestants appear on the ballot boxes and a daily

LEONARD C. BURKE FOR COMMISSIONER

Leonard C. Burke is a candidate for the office of County Commissioner for Precinct No. 2 of Milam County, subject to the Democratic Primary election on Saturday, July 25, he announced for publication in the Herald on Tuesday.

Mr. Burke is a native citizen of Milam county. He was born in the Salem community and has lived in the City of Cameron for a number of years.

In announcing for the office Mr. Burke said he needs the job and wants the place. He has no fight to make on anyone and believes he can discharge the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the people. He believes a young man should have a chance and is therefore a candidate offering the people his services with the pledge that if elected he will leave nothing undone to give them a satisfactory service.

Mr. Burke has had sufficient experience in business and in work peculiar to the office of Commissioner to insure his qualifications for the office, he believes. He believes that the lateral roads should get all possible attention. In times past they have been neglected. He promises to see that all tax money is distributed so that tax payers will get as nearly a uniform distribution of benefits as possible to make. He would give the required attention to the main highways of travel also.

In conducting the business of the county Mr. Burke would be actuated by economy and the general welfare of all the people.

Mr. Burke appreciates the pledged support of his friends who have encouraged his entry into the race. He plans to make an active campaign for the office, to see and talk with all the voters of the precinct. If there be one with whom he does not meet he takes this occasion to ask for their vote and support.

Commissioner Precinct No. 2 is composed of Justice Precincts 1 and 2. Mr. Burke makes an earnest plea for your vote and support and pledges the people that he will pay back in service the debt he will owe in exchange for the confidence expressed by his election to this important office.

Then he inherits the management of a huge amusement park and becomes involved with a gang of slot machine racketeers who have put every previous manager on the spot.

NEW TEXAS ROAD MAP IS OFFERED FREE

"History and nature have joined in making Texas one of the most interesting sections of the country," is the tribute paid this state in a 1936 road map now being offered to motorists at some 40,000 Gulf gasoline service stations throughout the land. "A visit to Texas enriches life."

Besides charting the state highways and byways, the new map shows the state's principal cities in detail; describes its scenic attractions and principal points of interest to tourists; and promotes safe and sane driving in an illustrated list of "Do's and Don't's for Drivers."

With the issuing of the colorful new chart of Texas, it is interesting to note that Gulf was the first to offer a free road map to the traveler, more than 20 years ago—a somewhat sketchy chart of dirt and macadam pikes in western Pennsylvania. Today in addition to detailed maps of 33 states, Gulf offers to map out tours for individual motorists to all parts of the United States.

RESETTLEMENT FUND LOANS SLOW MAKING

Glenn Mitchell, supervisor for the Resettlement Administration in Milam County, has been informed by the regional headquarters that almost half a million dollars now available for cooperative loans in Texas and Oklahoma will be directed to other uses unless it is loaned before the end of June.

This fund amounts to $812,000 in Texas and $143,000 in Oklahoma, but only a few thousand dollars have been loaned to date. Most of the loans so far have been for pure-bred sires and farm machinery. The loan is usually made to one man and his neighbors sign an agreement to use the animal or machinery at a specified price.

Many other types of cooperative enterprises may be financed through such loans from Resettlement Administration, including syrup mills, feed mills, laundries, canning plants, threshing outfits, and facilities for grading and shipping farm products such as fruit, vegetables, eggs, and poultry. Loans may also be made for membership in existing cooperative associations. In one county a loan is now being considered which would enable borrowers to become stock holders in a cooperative hospital.

"I am sure that there are many worthwhile enterprises that should be started cooperatively in this county," Mitchell said. "And I hope that farmers who are interested will call on me at an early date in order that we may make requests for loans before the money is withdrawn." He explained that a sound financial plan must be worked out which will assure repayment and that the cooperative enterprise must not duplicate any already in existence in the community.

Borrowers must either be farmers who are already receiving aid from the Resettlement Administration, or unable to get the desired financial assistance from any other public or private agency. The others who participate in the enterprise need not be borrowers from resettlement provided they are in the low income class who would otherwise not be able to obtain the sort of service provided.

PENSION FUND NOW HAS $1,320,928

Austin, May 5 (Special).—Credited this week to the old age assistance fund—money to be matched dollar for dollar by the Federal Government as soon as pension payments start—was $1,320,928.86 as the direct result of the Liquor Control Board's request of the Comptroller's department for an additional proration of revenues.

Besides increasing the available pension fund, the latest proration put $282,630.44 into the permanent old age fund, and provided $498,245.42 for the schools. Liquor Administrator Charles R. Miller announced. Prorations to the three funds totaled $2,051,804.72 he said.

Under the law, liquor revenues are divided between the old age assistance funds, which get three fourths and the school fund which receives the remaining quarter after operating expenses are deducted. Of the money allocated to old age assistance, 85 per cent goes to the available fund and 15 per cent to a permanent fund.

"The liquor control board requested the proration at this time to prevent any unforeseen delay when pension payments begin, whether that's in June or July," Administrator Miller asserted. "The board wants to do everything possible it can to expedite the flow of money to the aged Texans who are in need."

Miller explained that the liquor control administration is bound only to enforce the law and collect revenues, but that it is bending every effort to cooperate toward quick and unhindered payments when the pension system goes into effect.

"The board didn't want to take the risk, little as it might be, of having a last-minute hitch develop in the mechanics of getting the money ready for pension payments, and that's why the request was made of the Comptroller's department," he said.

The administrator also stated that tightening down of enforcement was being reflected in the gradually increasing amount of monthly revenue from the liquor industry. He commended local officers for assisting liquor control board inspectors in the general campaign against violators.

BRYANT STATION CLUB

"The brining process is used to make vegetables hard or firm and to kill the organisms that might destroy the vegetable tissues," said Mrs. Charlie Williams, pantry demonstrator, at a meeting of the Bryant Station Home Demonstration club at her home on Thursday April 30.

Stone crocks or jars are best for brining and glass jars with glass tops are best for canning when pickles or relishes are being made. Salt should never be poured directly into a brine that has become weakened but should be added on the top of the cloth used as a cover for the vegetables. When an egg floats in the brine solution, it is strong enough for use.

Mrs. Kay Moore gave a report of the council meeting at Cameron. Plans were completed for the ice cream supper to be held at the school house Friday night May 8.

The hostess served delicious iced fruit punch to eight members and two visitors. The visitors were Mrs. Grover Williams of Buckholts and Miss Lillie Williamson of Temple.

Wastepaper baskets are interesting articles if you really think about them. They are made in numerous styles offering beauty, durability, or a combination of both. They may be had in many different shapes and sizes, ranging from small square models to tall works of art with graceful flowing art.

From appearances one would think our wastepaper baskets were intended only for beauty, for desks and under them too often lie paper. Let's use our wastepaper baskets.

WILKERSON PLACES IN REGIONAL MEET

After the final checking of scores in typing at the regional meet in Huntsville April 24 and 25, it was discovered that one of the Yoe High entries, Zora Wilkerson had won fourth place. Zora made a score of 140.

SENIOR GIRLS TO BELTON

At the invitation of Mary Hardin Baylor College, five senior girls accompanied by Miss Dallis Young, spent Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, as guests of the college in Belton.

Those attending were: Juanita Thomas, Virginia McKenny, Alice Kosel, Elizabeth Jones, Evelyn Dickens and Miss Dallis Young.

Each year the college invites about two hundred senior girls from surrounding towns to visit the college and become better acquainted with it. This was the fourth annual High School Play Day.

Alice: "You've never been kissed?"

Florence: "I've never been sick."

Trent N.: "I'm sorry I forgot your party the other night."

Margaret: "Oh, weren't you there?"

Mr. Perrin called his secretary: "Here Miss Blackstone, look at this letter. I can't make out whether it is from my tailor or lawyer. They are both named Smith." This is what the secretary read: "I have begun your suit. It will be ready to be tried on Thursday."

Indignant Parent (at 7 a. m.): "Young man, what do you mean by bringing my daughter in at this hour?"

Joe: "Well, you see, I have to go to work by 8 o'clock."

Miss Pitts, a very preoccupied lady, sat next to a bald headed man at a banquet. In the course of the meal she dropped her napkin without noticing it. Mr. Parnell stooped to pick it up and in doing so brushed his head against her arm. Feeling the touch she turned quickly and seeing only the top of his head, said: "Thank you, no melon."

"Say, Billy, I saw the most unusual and terrible thing happen the other night."

"What was it?"

Mr. Stone Garner and Mr. Wood were standing on a corner talking when a good looking girl passed by. Stone turned to Wood and Wood turned to Stone, they both turned to rubber, and the girl turned into a drug store.

"Spring Fever"

Spring days are here and with them comes the so-called "spring fever." Old Man Laziness has gotten hold of most of us and we find it pretty hard to do our lessons, don't we? But we are cheered by the fact that there are only four more weeks till school is out and then we will be wondering what to do with our time. Most of us have been planning fishing and camping trips for the days when there is no school, but as the time draws near for school to close, we wonder what happened to our first eight months. We are going to miss the comradeship that we enjoy at school, but nevertheless, we still all cheer when our bell rings for the last time.

The San Gabriel Pirate Tales

We, Dorothy Worley and Sarah Yeager, editors, with the help of some other high school students, dedicate this column to the seniors of 1936 with our best wishes for success and happiness throughout their lives.

TOASTS TO THE SENIORS

From the Fifth Grade

To each and every senior,
Who departs from our school this year,
We, the fifth grade, extend a greeting,
And hope to be remembered here.

From the Sixth Grade
Here's a toast to the Seniors,
From twenty merry sixth graders.
We all want you to remember
In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of Life,

Be not like dumb, driven cattle!
Be a hero in the strife!
Lives of the Seniors all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sand of time.

Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

From the Seventh Grade

Here's to Irene Fulcher,
A ball-player brave and true,
She is made of personality,
And a head full of brains, she has too

Here's to Lonzo Johnson
Who never failed as a friend;
His pals all love him truly,
And greetings to him, they send.

Here's to Allyne Faulkner
Who is always on her toes;
She is very, very careful,
Not to get hit on the nose.

Here's to Ruby Alta Starnes
The song bird of them all
And it doesn't make any difference,
If she is a wee bit tall.

Here's to Claud Robinson
Who is never behind the line,
He'll someday be the president,
If you'll only give him time.

Here's to Dorothy Anness
With personality and beauty combined
She makes the boys' hearts flutter—
And leaves them plenty blind.

Roll on you, noble scholars,
Though life's pathway may be rough,
And when it gets a little too hard,
Just roll up your sleeves and say, "I'm tough,"

From the Eighth Grade

Here's to the Seniors Six,
Of the year of 1936
As you leave your dear old school
Having obeyed each trying rule,
May your future be bright all thru
The life long journey that awaits for you.

From the Ninth Grade

Here's to the Seniors,
One and all,
In your climb toward life
May you never fall.

Forget the hard things,
Others say
With head held high,
All the way.

Your life in this school
Has been worth while,
With smiles you have faced
Each long hard mile.

So here's to you,
Again we say,
Congratulations on Graduation day.

From the Tenth Grade

Here's to the Seniors of '36;
Although there are but six,
They do merrily mix.

Here's to Ruby Alta who has meant
Much to the seniors as class president,
And has done in each event.

Here's to Irene who never fell,
She always was a good gal
And in basket ball and singing did well.

Here's to Allyne with honors many;
In all events not excepting any,
She has taken a part and done a plenty.

Here's to Dorothy who has worked her way;
Three years in high school was her stay,
And we know she will be successful every day.

Here's to Lonzo who belongs to FFA
As a comedian he's bound to stay
As he has done his part in every way.

Here's to Claude who is the last of all
And in every sport he can handle the ball,
We wish him success as we do to all.

WHAT WE LOSE WHEN WE LOSE SENIORS

No truer does the old saying, "Life is not all roses" ring out than when we lose our friends, the seniors. To our school, they are an emblem of what we can do.

They have won for us victories that we will not forget. They have been ever willing to go forward, conquer higher goals for our school.

In losing them, we, who will be seniors in not so many years, salute them as a symbol for those qualities that they possess, and which we admire and wish to gain for ourselves before we receive our diploma from this, our school.

In losing them, we lose essayists, typists, bookkeepers, librarians, basketball players, and noblest of all, good all-around students and good sports-win or lose.

In losing them, we can only wish them the very best as they pass from school life into life's school. We wish that for them there may be fewer thorns and redder roses than ever before.

SENIORS CHOOSE SPEAKER FOR BACCALAUREATE SERMON

At a recent meeting of the Senior class, Rev. J. K. Simmons, Pastor of First Baptist Church at Thorndale, was voted unanimously by the class to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon, to the class, Sunday evening, May the 24, at 8:15 P. M., at the First First Christian Church in San Gabriel. Mr. Simmons was a former teacher in the San Gabriel school, and he has many close friends in the community as well as in the school. We are happy the seniors chose one who was a sincere friend to each of them as well as one who is alert and interested in the youth of today and in the progress of education.

CLASS WILL

I, Allyne Faulkner, bequeath to Francis Gambil my typing table at the window and my sun-glasses so that she can watch the workers lay rock.

I, Lonzo Johnson, bequeath to Robert Ray, my little brother, my athletic ability.

I, Dorothy Anness, bequeath my popularity and charming personality to that other Dorothy, Miss Worley.

I, Claud Robinson, bequeath my wife and seven children to Marie Mertz, with complete instructions on child care.

I, Irene Fulcher, bequeath my position as mail-carrier to Richard Heine, with sincere hopes that there will be no more letters from Buckholts.

I, Ruby Alta Starnes, bequeath my nightingale warble to Verna Jo Garner.

CLASS PROPHECY

As we turn the pages of life's book we behold the seniors ten years hence.

We see Lonzo as he begins his daily routine of comical entertainments in the land where nobody works and the whole long year is spring. His job, I mean his pastime, will never end, and his wages consist of fragrant perfumes and delicious catables.

Irene is in her most luxurious beauty salon on Fifth Avenue and her customer is none other than a beautiful society leader, Miss Allyne Faulkner. Irene has almost finished perfecting Allyne's lustrous golden curls before they realize that they know each other. For a time they forgot their position and high standing and review their happy country life and their last year at San Gabriel high school.

And, then, on the highways and byways, we find a vagabond. Can you guess? It is Claud Robinson. He has been to the four corners of the earth and now he is turning toward home, footsore and alone. As he recklessly makes his way thru the narrow streets of Venice he is singing an old hymn, which I could barely hear. It was "Highways are Happy Ways When they Lead The Way to Home," and as I listen my heart goes out to him.

Dorothy Anness has just come to her daily rehearsal. She is talking with her movie friend, Ginger Rogers. Dorothy is world famous for her acting ability, and she really enjoys her work and most of all, her large salary.

We find Ruby Alta trying to console her little three year old daughter long enough to answer the telephone. It is her husband calling to tell her that she will be honored with the presence of one of her old time friends for dinner. She is over delighted and when the friend gets there, she is Ruby Alta's old standby, Irene Fulcher.

A PRAYER FOR SENIORS

Dear God, bless each senior's heart
As they travel day by day,
May kind words be spoken freely,
To others on their way.

Make them sweet and pure and good
In all they try to do,
And may they be kind-hearted, Lord,
Faithful, observing, and true.

Just let them realize life is short,
And that the way is hard,
Guide their footsteps rightly,
And may they give thanks, Lord.

The Seniors chose for their class play, "The Wild Oats Boy," scheduled to be presented, May 22, 1936. This is a comedy-drama in three acts. A rehearsal schedule for both afternoon and evening has been made. Due to the size of the class several other high-school students are taking part in the play.

The Cast is as follows:
Aunt Anne, Housekeeper, Verna Jo Garner.

Della, The Maid, Allyne Faulkner.
Judy, Adopted daughter, Irene Fulcher.

Danny Murphy, The cook-maybe,
Claud Robinson.

Pat Gilden, Judy's friend, Ruby Alta Starnes.
Eve Martin, Another Friend, Dorothy Anness.
Eddie, Wild Oat Boy, Johnnie Kunz.
Jake Peters, New York Cousin, Pete Conn.
Prue, Country Cousin, Dorothy Worley.
Chuck Benton, Ex-prize fighter, Howard Willie.
Trout, Prue's son, Wayne Isaac.
Seth, Uncle from Maine, Howard Fulcher.

MISS FANNIE McQUARY DIES

Miss Fannie McQuary of Friendship, age 77, died in her home last Sunday evening at six o'clock after a long illness. She was born and reared in Bell County near Belton, moving to Milam County with her parents

She leaves only one sister, Miss Ann McQuary and a large number of nieces and nephews and other relatives, also many friends to mourn her loss. She joined the Methodist Church a good many years ago. She was laid to rest in Friendship Monday afternoon. Rev. Burkee, pastor preached the funeral.

Pallbearers were four nephews: D. R. J. R., R. D., E. W. and Ray and Sidney McQuary, the latter being great nephews. Out of town people attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McQuary of Austin and Ray McQuary of Freer.

ter the hour of closing, it was announced by Mrs. W. B. Skelton who is among the active sponsors of the contest and the campaign to raise funds for the Band.

Information on the standing of candidates can be obtained by calling Walter F. Sharpe who is custodian of the ballots and funds. He makes a daily tabulation and micrographed tables are distributed. S. A. Cottle at the Auditorium Hotel will also give the tabulations and standing of candidates.

Ballot boxes are placed at the following places: Blue Bonnet Cafe; Palace of Sweets, New Cameron Drug Company, Laake's Confectionery and Yoe High School building.

Developments during the week were featured by the withdrawal of Miss Patricia Batte from the contest. Miss Ella Bess Haygood has been nominated and there may be others.

The band is facing a crisis with the need of about 65 uniforms. Instruments must be added to give the band proper rating and the citizens have been called to the line of duty in this vital program to sustain and equip one of the greatest high school bands in Texas. The Battle cry is "Go Vote." It will mean the difference between success and failure. It will mean a band properly equipped. It will mean greater achievements for the boys and girls who are upholding the traditions of our city and their leader, Francis Cox.

Elsewhere will be found a tabulation of the vote and a complete list of the candidates.

WHAT'S IN THE BOTTLE?

If it's a bottle of medicine, you can't tell what's inside (except that it's probably something bitter). You must trust your druggist — trust that he has followed your doctor's orders — trust that he has used only fresh drugs of the highest grade.

Your own doctor will tell you that we are worthy of this trust.

When you have a prescription filled here, you don't have to wonder—"What's in the Bottle."

Above all, you must have faith that he has compounded your prescription properly, for unlike recipes, they rarely state how the ingredients are to be mixed.

A Thomas label is your guarantee.

"Flash Gordon," New Serial Film Opening At Milam Friday

Four years ago, Buster Crabbe, already a world-famous swimming champion, was trying to decide whether to be an acrobat, a wrestler, a strong man in a circus, or a lawyer. But fortunately the movies got him.

The popular star whose latest role is in Universal's "Flash Gordon," had just broken a record or two in the Olympic games at Los Angeles, when motion picture executives noticed his splendid physique, took him out of the swimming pool and starred him in "King of the Jungle."

He achieved his acrobatic ambitions with the ease of a trapeze artist (after practicing at home on the chandelier). Later, in a Tarzan series he rehearsed strangleholds and headlocks on a variety of animals, emerging as a capable wrestler.

However, in "Flash Gordon" he has the opportunity to display all his talents. In this adventure film he with shark men, swings across yawning pits filled with reptiles, wrestles with monkey men, casually throws 318 pounds of living human flesh over his shoulder, and succeeds in confusing his enemies.

The first episode of "Flash Gordon," shown at the Milam Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9, presents this brilliant star in new exciting developments.

Prominent in the cast supporting Buster Crabbe are Jean Rogers, Charles Middleton, Priscilla Lawson, Frank Shannon, Richard Alexander, James Pierce, Duke Yarke, Jr., and Richard Tucker. The picture follows the story related in Alex Raymond's newspaper strip and was directed by Frederick Stephani.

Billy Gillis Scores High In Track At Junior College Meet

Honors continue to pile up for former students of Yoe High School who have gone to college far from the old fields on which they wrought with glory from the home town.

This time it is Billy Gillis who starred and was captain on the 1934 Yoemen football team. In those days Billy was not considered a great track star. He went to Schreiner at Kerrville and took up track along with football and has become a star of the clatter path.

Junior Colleges in Texas held their track meet in Austin last Saturday. Schreiner won the meet with a total of 86 1-2 points while the next high team was Texarkana with a score of 23.

Gillis scored 7 1-2 points of the total won by his team. He is a member of two relay teams, the 440 and 440 yard team, also a member of the 120 high hurdles team. In the 120 yard hurdles he was third man and in the 200 yard hurdles he was second man.

Fitzgerald of Schreiner broke the 120 yard hurdles record. Two men back came Gillis, the former Yoemen star.

C. M. Hicks, sponsor of the Invitation Track meet in Cameron every spring, brings these matters to the attention to the Herald. Gillis is the son of Judge and Mrs. Graham Gillis.

A Good Commercial Loan

—has distinct hallmarks which warrant its rating as sound business for your bank.

THESE hallmarks are:—the good name of the borrower; the sound purpose for which the money is to be used; and the self-liquidating character of the underlying transaction which assures repayment of the loan in accordance with its terms.

These are the essential features of commercial loans made by this bank. They help our customers carry on useful, profitable business activities. Bankers call them "short-term, selfliquidating loans" for they finance industrial, agricultural and merchandising operations which are normally completed within sixty or ninety days or seasonal periods, and bring in funds to repay the loan.

CHEVROLET MANAGER MAPS SALES PLAN

J. B. Hancock, zone manager of Chevrolet Motor Company, Houston, Texas, pictured above, has just returned from a business conference conducted in Detroit by Mr. M. E. Coyle, president and Mr. Wm. E. Holler, vice president in charge of sales of Chevrolet Motor Company. Executives throughout the entire United States attended this important meeting, during which merchandising plans and programs were reviewed preparatory to their presentation to Chevrolet dealers nationally.

In his comments on the meeting Mr. Hancock said, "Never before in my 13 years experience with Chevrolet Motor Company have I seen such definite and sound business plans that will be given immediately to Chevrolet dealers to assist them in continuing the successful business that they have enjoyed so far in 1936. The principle of doing business on a friendship basis has been the aim of both Chevrolet dealers and the factory. Continued good business means continued fair dealings and friendly relationship with present and prospective automobile users. The combination of friendliness and our ability to build an outstanding product in 1936, has definitely assured Chevrolet dealers of continued preference by their friends and customers."

Mr. Hancock continued, "With indications of continued new and used car buying throughout the nation, all Chevrolet dealers and salesmen will be in a better position to sell new Chevrolet cars and trucks to those customers wanting new merchandise, or sell Chevrolet Guaranteed "OK" used cars and trucks to those customers seeking stable guaranteed used car merchandise."

Used car sales and new car sales in the Houston territory continue to break all previous records. During the month of March, Chevrolet sales in South Texas exceeded any other period in the history of the Houston zone office. Likewise, used car sales for the month of March climaxed the highest previous sales peak.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pain disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." ... If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

Down the Lane of MEMORIES

By BERENICE McLERRAN

The passing years have taken their toll from the ranks of the Veterans of Gray, who answered the call of the South in the 60's. Milam county is proud that it still has nine of these Southern gentlemen living here.

Among these nine veterans are A. S. Moseley of Cameron, A. J. Jackson of Salty and William Persky of Buckholts. Each of these three men are in their nineties.

A. S. Moseley was born July 22, 1844 in Henry County, Georgia, near White House. His father, Silas Moseley, was a farmer and father of ten children—six boys and four girls.

After a few years the family moved to Mississippi. A. S. Moseley was 17 years old when the war broke out. His father wouldn't let him join the army during the first year. He ran away and joined in January, 1862, being enlisted in Company G, 14th Mississippi, Independent Scout Cavalry. He was in the two sieges at Jackson, Mississippi, but the worst battle he was in was near the close of the war in the summer of 1864 at Dalton. The battle lasted ninety days. He was in East Tennessee under Major Bob Graham when the war closed. During the war his parents died.

On his way home, he went by his old home in Georgia and his relatives told him to bring his sisters back to them when he got home and they would take care of them. He bought a horse went to Mississippi, got his sisters and returned to Georgia.

He was married in 1865 just after the war to Miss Elizabeth Estis. In 1869 he and his wife and two children packed all their belongings in a covered wagon and with seven other families started out for Texas. They were four weeks on the road. After many hardships they finally reached their destination and settled in Burleson County near Caldwell. After living there for 25 years they moved to Cameron in 1903. Mr. Moseley has four daughters and one son living as follows: Mrs. Alice Ross, Ardmore, Oklahoma; Will Moseley, Rosebud; Mrs. J. P. Moseley, Cameron; Mrs. Mae Griswold, Taylor; Mrs. Mack Dolvin, Rockdale. He also has 39 grand children, 42 great-grand children and two great great grand children.

For a couple to be married for more than 69 years is a rare thing, but Milam county boasts of having such a couple. They are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jackson of Salty. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will observe their 70th wedding anniversary on November 20.

Mr. Jackson was born in Montgomery county, Alabama, February 5, 1845. Mrs. Jackson will be 87 years of age on Christmas Day. Before her marriage to Mr. Jackson she was Miss Sarah Jane Thomas. She was a Sunday School teacher for more than 20 years, and has been a member of the Methodist church for 72 years.

Mr. Jackson is the only living member of his company in the war between the states. He enlisted in the Confederate army at Montgomery, Alabama, July 1862, joining what was called Hilliard's Legion, Jack Thornton's Battalion, Captain McCann's Company B under General Robert E. Lee. Charlie Maloy was first lieutenant; Louis Whatley, second lieutenant and D. M. Huffman, third lieutenant. Huffman was his brother-in-law.

"The forces remained at Montgomery until the fall of that year," he related. "We were then ordered to Tennessee and were kept on reserve at Knoxville, Cumberland Gap, Clinton, Kingston and London."

Just before the battle of Chickamauga, we were disbanded and thrown into regiments, I was in the 60th Alabama regiment, Company C, under Colonel J. W. Sanford. Major Hatch Cook, Gracious Brigade and Bushrod Johnson's division. We were then sent to Chickamauga, and were engaged in desperate battle on September 20, 1863. I received a slight wound in this battle. From here, our company was sent to Missionary Ridge, where it was attached to Longstreet's corps and forwarded to Knoxville and Drewry's Bluff, Virginia, where we were again engaged in battle. We were then ordered to Richmond and were engaged in several skirmishes. Later we moved on to the breast works at Petersburg. On the night before the war closed, all I had to eat was a little piece of corn bread and an ear of corn.

I was in the last battle at Appomattox court house. When the war closed I was nine hundred miles from my home and about half of the distance had to be covered on foot as all of the railroad bridges had been burned and trains could not be put through. I landed home on the 2nd of May, 1865.

Mr. Jackson and his wife came to Texas in 1874 and settled on Hills Prairie, Bastrop County, where they resided two years. They moved to Milam County in the fall of 1876 and have lived here since.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson had twelve living children as follows: Mrs. Mattie Pinkerton, John Jackson, Mrs. Lullie Jinks, Mrs. Ellen Towery and Jessie Jackson, Thorndale, Texas, route 2; Mrs. Alice Pugh, Cameron, Star route; Mrs. Rubie Lusk, Temple; Frank Jackson, Clarence Jackson, Rockdale, Route 1; Mrs. Annie Brown, Orange; Fred Jackson, Austin; and Mrs. Laura Cook, New Mexico.

William Persky of Buckholts was born in Viesten Bucholz, Germany, on November 21, 1844. He came to America with his parents the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Persky, at the age of six years and settled in Austin County. At the age of 18 he was drafted in the army at Hempstead. He stayed at Mud Island, Galveston, all during the war with Timmons Regiment, serving under two captains, first Captain Vigilant and later Captain Hardy in Company B and under Colonel Timmons and Lieutenant Colonel Bradley. He was a member of the Trans-Mississippi department under General McGrudder.

At the end of the war, Mr. Persky came from Galveston to Brenham on a freight train that had to be pushed up the hills. He traveled all night from Houston to Hempstead, and finally arrived at Brenham in May, 1865. He then returned to his home near New Ulm. He was married to Miss Theresa Runge in January, 1871. She died in August, 1894.

For a number of years Mr. Persky resided in Bell County, but for the past ten years, he has been living in Milam county.

OLD LETTER WRITTEN BY JUDGE ENGLISH

This letter was written by the late Judge Ed F. English 26 years ago as indicated by the date. It has been in the files of The Herald for some time. It's publication will be appreciated by many friends of the dead judge:

March 22, 1910.

Major E. M. Bean,
Davis, Okla.

Dear Old Friend:

Through Mrs. India Stidham, in a letter to her father, I incidentally heard from you a few days ago. I was sorry to hear of your ill health, but trust that with the coming of spring and the roses, you will resume your wonted health. I shall not undertake to write you this letter with pen, but shall resort to my sewing machine, which will be satisfactory I know to you. We have no political news, that is, that would be news to you for I am sure you continue to read the Dallas News, which will keep you fully posted. The political guns at Austin are unlimbering for final action; and ere many moons, there will be something doing in Texas. We have a full quota of County candidates in the field. I believe Judge Watson and Bob Wiley are the only two who have no opponents. For tax collector, Will Ross, Porter Stevens, Henry Moore and John Joynes, the cotton buyer, are the candidates. For Bill Nabours place, who is not a candidate for re-election, Capt. Wolf, John Bell, Will Gilleland, Jim Chamberline and Jim Pate. For Sheriff, Holtzclaw, Hooks, Todd and Charlie Williams. For County Clerk, Jeff Kemp and John Poteet. I am for Gen. R. V. Davidson for Governor, after careful survey of the field, I verily believe that he more fully comprehends the needs of Texas, and would be more devoted to her interest than any man in the field. The race is between Davidson and Colquitt. The Anti-Bailey Pro. has about concluded that the issue is Baileyism instead of State wide Prohibition; but we shall see what we see.

Cameron is making some progress. We have two or three new commercial enterprises, besides they have elected Ben Strum mayor, and already have a complete system of street lights, with some additional sewerage, for which we are indebted to him for his service as alderman. His election was a surprise to a great many people, but he was petitioned by a hundred and fifty of the citizens of Cameron to make the race, which resulted in his election.

I have begun to realize, Major, that I am growing old notwithstanding the fact that I do not notice any marked evidences of physical decline, still I am reminded that all of us, who figured in the 60's must sooner or later pay the debt, which we all owe, and I am making a daily struggle to do all the good I can, and little harm, and at the same time cheerfully accept the situation; without playing to the galleries, or making big demonstrations. I am trying to practice the religion of Christ, which is the religion of love and sympathy for my fellow man, and practice as much as possible the golden rule. Do you know that some of the most eloquent sermons that I ever heard, have been preached by you, by little kindly acts of cheer and sympathy to those in need, and do you know that the world is suffering more for human sympathy than all the gold of Ophir, but sympathy without the act is of no avail; but sympathy with the means of relieving the wants and necessities of those in distress.

Last Saturday evening as I sat in my office, talking to a number of friends, a bright little boy about six or seven years old, came in and said please Sir, help, and before he could finish the sentence, I stopped him, as I had seen him mingle with the crowd on the street, and supposed him to be a professional beggar. I noticed something in his hand wrapped in paper, and I begun to lecture him, which consisted of some cold, cheerless advice, and the little fellow bursted into tears, which was a sermon to me that I shall never forget. It is needless to say that I bought all the little fellow's pencils, and gave them back to him, and commended him for his manly effort to drive the wolf from his mother's door.

But in this life, trouble comes to all, sometimes in great surging billows that beat and break, double and dash upon the shore line of our lives, until it is more than human can bear, and but for the consciousness that a kind and sympathizing Christ is ready to take us in his arms, with all of our frailties and shortcomings, is an apt demonstration of the love and sympathy, He preached.

I have written this letter under very embarrassing circumstances, where a crowd was coming and going.

Regards to Charlie and family, Dick Stidham and Mrs. Stidham, and with best wishes for you, and hope of your speedy recovery, I am as for time,

Your friend,
ED. F. ENGLISH.

Why Gulf is the Gas for May

Birds are nesting. It's Spring . . . and it's the time of year to use Spring gas. The average temperature is several degrees higher than it was in April, and unless you're using a gas specially refined for Spring driving you're throwing dimes and dollars away. Get That Good Gulf Gasoline. Because it's "Kept in Step with the Calendar"—all of it goes to work, none of it goes to waste. Pull up at the Sign of the Orange Disc and try a tankful—today.
